PARE THEATRE - There will be a grand jubilee at the Park Theatre this evening, as will be perceived by refer-ring to the advertisement under the amusement head.— The danseuses Viennoise will appear in some of their of his best characters, and there will be other attractions.

the entire company displayed their usual talents in the piece. This afternoon and evening, there will be two separate performances. Seldom has this popular theatre presented such a powerful combination of attractions, as Palmo's Opera House, in Chambers street, where he wil perform some wonderful feats of magic and ventriloquism. Miss Yates will appear in the course of the evening, and dance a hornpipe and a Highland fling.

THE ALHAMBRA—Such of our citizens as wish to spend a pleasant time on New Year's night, (and who does not ') had better go to the Alhambra this evening, where Herr Alexander's mysterious tricks! and a variety of mu crowded to excess last evening. The performance was, as usua', admirably sustained by Messrs. Sands, Meyers, Conover, Carroll, and the talented children, Jesse and Maurice. Master Hernandez, in his principal act of horsemanship, always elicits the most unbounded applause. The fighting ponies and the beautiful May Fly showed their extraordinary powers and docility in their duncing and fighting scenes. There will be three grand performances this day one at 10% o'clock, one at 2½ o'clock, and one at 7 o'clock. The whole talent of this splendid company will be produced, in order to make the performance as attractive as possible. Seldom has such a combination of the most extraordinary and varied ability that usually ornaments the circus been presented together as will be found here; and the vast crowds that nightly flock forward to witness the performances is the best test of the high appreciation in which the talents of the company are held. By all means, go and see the American circus this day, and spplaud May Fly.

Bowery AMPHITHEATRE. - Mr. Levi J. North performed here twice last evening, with his usual talent, and drew forth the most unbounded applause. Gossin, Carlo and Gardner, together with Mr. North, delighted the en-tire house by their extraordinary feats. This day there tire house by their extraordinary feats. This day there will be three performances—one at 10 o'clock—one at 2 o'clock, F. M., and one at 6½ o'clock, P. M. Madame Camille Gardner will ride her great act of horsemanship on the eccasion. Mesars. Nixon, Perry, Bergaant, and those distinguished clowns, Carlo, Gossin and Gardner, will all appear. Perhaps on no former occasion has such an array of talent and high attraction been presented together on one day as will, on the present occasion, at this popular Circus. Every one desirous of witnessing the most splendid riding of the day, should go and see the performances here this day.

Drc. 31.—In re Dorothea Thurin—In pursuance of the adjournment had on Wednesday, all parties appeared to day, at one o'clock, hefore Judge Oakley, attended by their counsel. From what transpired before the Judge, it appeared that the writ was granted on the application of a young German named John Berger, who is connected with a private German theatre in this city, under pretence that Mile. Dorothea was deprived of her liberty by Madame Weiss. Judge Oakley examined her very minutely, and to sall his questions she replied distinctly that there was no force or coercion used by any person towards her, and that she preferred remaining under the protection of Madame Weiss. The Judge told her she might go where she pleased; upon which she retired with Madame.

Generals Houston and Rust, Col. Kaufman, Judge Pilsbury, and Mr. Lee, of Texas, paid their respects to Albert Gallatin, Chancellor Kent, Mejor Popham and Thomas Trenon, Esq., at their respective residences in this city. They were introduced, yesterday, by Alderman Peters and were most cordially received by these eminent and venerable gentlemen. The brief interviews between these eloquent and profound sages of the old republic, and the vigorous enthusiastic and more youthful representatives of a new and remote State, was highly interesting. Chanceller Kent presented them with a full set of his commentaries for the Supreme Court of Texas.

From the Plains.—We learn from the Lexington Express, of the 14th, that an express had reached that place from the company of Builard, Hooke & Co., traders to Santa Fe, who were the last to leave independence this season.

They had crossed the Arkansas, and were encamped for the night south of the sand hills on the Semione, when one of those dreadful north-western snow storms which are common on the plains, came up, and so alarmed their cattle, that many of them broke through the guard, and made their escape.

Some twenty head made their escape, and three mules perished in the storm. Being thus weakened in their teams, the company were compelled to return to the Arkansas, where they have very good grass, rushes, &c., for their stock.

It was their intention, however, if the weather continued fair, to move on to Bent's Fort, 100 miles, with sil the goods possible, and whiter there. By doing so, they will be enabled to reach Santa Fe early in the spring — St. Louis Rep., Dec. 23.

City Intelligence.

Booths around the Park — The attention of our new Corporation Attorney, or the Captain of the Sixth Ward or some other official gentleman whose province it is to attend to the matter, is most respectfully, but earnestly, called to the matter, is most respectfully, but earnestly, called to the matter, is most respectfully, but earnestly, called to the small edifices which are almost daily increasing in numbers around the Park railing. On the easterly side of the enclosure, quite a spirit of emulation has arisan; architecture has decidedly improved, and instead of the canvass covered tables which used to serve for the apple and peanut trade, quite substantial fabrics of wood, with roofs formed of boards, tengued and groved, are now to be seen. The trade of this incipient bezaar is already quite varied—apples, red, green and golden—peanuts and apples—apples, peanuts and segars—perfumery for the million, blacking and glass beads—stockings at low prices, and oranges und lemons at high ditto—cheap literature and tin whistles, vie with each other in inviting the passengers to establish an ownership in them. While the four cent man—not the 8 mon Pure "Hany-artick"-on-th-boatd-four-four-cents" man, but an humble imitation of that gentleman—collects crowds around his cart-load of rusty scissors, iron gimlots, &c., and furnishes abundant amusement for the little boys who snow hell each other from opposite sides of the merchant's table of valuables, or blow peasized lumps of putty through tin tubes, at the naval prominences upon the faces of the bystanders. But the improvement is not confued to the upper end of the Fark. The speculators in cheap wares, old books, and "the fruits of the season," have also commenced the exection of shops upon the side walk on Broadway, opposite the Astor House, and these will, no doubt, ere long, have a settlement rivalling their neighbors, who have set up under the very windows of the chambers of the Common Council. Whose duty is it to see to the above? "Let him speak,"

Our Volunteers—Muster-Day at Fort Hamilton.—The regular muster of the 1st regiment of U. S. Volunteers of the State of New York, took place yesterday at Fort Hamilton, for the first time. The regiment, numbering about 800 men, paraded upon the green, inside the Fort, at about 12 o'clock, and were formed in an open square, when Col. Burnett addressed the volunteers: telling them that they were now regularly surolled in the service of the United States, and it was expected of them that they would deport themselves as soldiers. He briefly explained to them what their duty as members of the regiment would be, and alluded to the imperative necessity of the observance of strict discipline, and concluded by exhorting them to perform their duty promptly, and ever to remain faithful to their nation, their State, their homes. This, he stated, was the muster-day for the months of November and December. These musters would take place every two months, when every man in the regiment was expected to be present to answer to his name. Muster-day is pay-day, and they would, therefore, receive their money on these days.

MThe Adjutant next came forward and read the Regimental Orders—the substance of which was, that the regiment being now about full, they would be ready to leave, for whatever service they were ordered upon, in a few days. Mention was made of the $6,000 which had been given by the city of New York, for the purpose of furnishing articles necessary to the comfort of the men. India rubber tent clothes, knives and forks, spoons, plates, see, had been procured for them, and the greatest regard would be had in all things to secure to them the means of preserving their health, &c.

Sergeant O'Riley, of company F, was, by an order, reduced to the ranks, and by another order to deliver up his uniform and leave the garrison by 12 o'clock, M.

The atticles of war were then read

Dy. His comrades gave him three cheers us he passed them on his way out of the fort, escorted by a sergeant signard. We understand that Colonel Burnett's command is to parade in the city before they leave for the South The day for their sailing is not yet fixed upon; they will, no doubt, leave, however, within a few days.

WHITNEY'S ORATON—Be it remembered that this gentleman's evening with the orators, takes place to-night, New Year's. It will surpass in excellence any heretofore given. The familiar will be very properly diversified with the soleran, and the grave with the humorous. The speech of John Smith, Jr., the commandant of a bare footcompany in the Hoosier State, is a rich burleague. Mr. W. makes easy and graceful transitions from the sublime delineation of a Clay to the "sanguinary pathos" of one not "affeard of the inemy." We recommend all hypocondriacs to hear him. Mr. W. has drawn crowds of delightful visiters to his former lectures, and we anticipate in the present one a great throng, os Ex-President Houston, one of the men of the age, will be present, which will of course, induce the citie to be there.

Holiday Sport.—There will be three grand shooting matches to-day, at Connelly's, foot of 13th street, North River. An English grey hound, a good horse, and a sof poultry await best shots.

New Year's Give.—Dr. Felix Gouraud, No. 67 % siker street, has a valuable assortment of toilet articles, cosmetics, &c., on hand, which are worthy of attention.

The Spirit of the Age.—We have read the prospectus of a new temperance paper to be published by Joseph A. Scovill and Thaddeus Hyatt, with the above title. It promises to be a valuable aid to the cause it will advocate.

A. Scovin and Thadeeus Hyatt, with the above title. It promises to be a valuable sid to the cause it will advocate.

New Coroner.—Coroner Bawson's term of office expired with the old year, and to-day Dr. Walters enters upon the duties of the office. The office of coroner of the city and county of New York is no sinecure; but while the incumbent performs the sometimes arduous duties which devolve upon him, he has the comforting assurance that he will be well rewarded for his labor.

Military Firemen.—The Clinton Light Guard were out yesterday on a target excursion. The bull's eye upon the board gave evidence of several good abots.

Comorra's Isquests.—The coroner yesterday held two inquests; one at the Bellevue hospital, upon the body of an unknown man, about 47 years of age, who was found lying in an insensible state on the Bloomingdale from injuries which he appeared to have received upon his head. The verdict of the coroner's jury was that the deceased "came to his death by a blow with, or a fall upon, some solid blunt substance." The other inquest was held at 205 Bowery, upon the body of John Hermann, a native of Germany, aged 43 years, who died suddenly on the evening of the 30th December, from apoplexy.

Albany, Dec. 27, 1946.

Investigation in Relation to Frauds upon the Public Revenues, &c.

The Legislature, at its last session, appointed the fol. owing named members a committee to investigate allowing named members a committee to investigate alledged frauds in the expenditure of the recense of the several canals of this State:—Mesars. Lawrence, of Franklin; Pierce, of Dutches; Chatfield, of Steuben; Buth, of Eric, and Viele, of Washington.

These gentlemen are now present in this city, and are prepared to make their report to the Legislature. They have been actively engaged during the whole past summer, and have procured an almost incredible amount of testimony in relation to these alleged frauds. For a long period of time it has been suspected ghat many of the claims of contractors have been established by perjured testimony; at least, it has been known that the public works have been converted into huge engines for the manufacture of what is termed political capital, and for the aggrandizement of a few favored mon, at the expense of their fellow citizens of the State of New York.

The able and voluminous report of this committee will disclose an organized system of depredation upon the public treasury, of a nature most startling and altogether incredible. Disturrements to an extent exceeding belief have been allowed upon the testimony of feig ned witnesses.

But I forbear to go into any claborate presentation of incredible. Distursements to an extent exceeding belief have been allowed upon the testimony of feigned witnesses.

But I forbear to go into any claborate presentation of the matter contained in this report. I will await its submission to the Legislatare, with the carnest hope that the committee have devised and will recommend to the Legislature some thorough preventatives against this wholesale robbery of the treasury of the State. It is indeed, no longer a matter of astonishment that the revenues of the public works are inadequate to meet even the ordinary demands upon the treasury for the support of the government.

Mr. Fierce, of Duchess, has discharged the most important duties of this committee, and has been distinguished for an energy and ability in prosecuting this investigation, eminently creditable to his reputation as a patriot and a gentleman.

Mr. Bruce, of Madison, one of the members of the Constitutional Convention, is a candidate for the office of Adjutant General. Messrs. Bush, of Erie, and Mather, of Troy, are also candidates.

Mr. Thomas Smith, the anti-rent representative from Schobarie, is working prodigiously for the Speakership.

Charge of Grand Larceny.—That valuable officer, John Burley, of the lower police, arrested yesterday, a man by the name of Luke Dillou, on a warrant issued by Justice Drinker, wherein he stands charged with stealing a large quantity of household furniture valued at $500 the property of an elderly widew by the name of Frances Johnson. It appears that Mrs. Johnson hired he house No. 68 Greenwich at, for the purpose of keeping boarders, last spring, and the accused was one of her boarders, when Mrs. Johnson, finding that she was unable to carry on the business to any profitable advantage to herself, concluded to break up housekeeping, and the landlord ook the house off her bands in the fall of the year. Mrs. Johnson then stored her furniture with a Mr. Waldworth, in Greenwich street, nearly opposite her former residence, for safe keeping. A few days ago this man, Dillou, went to Mr. Waldworth, demanded the property thus stored by Mrs. Johnson, stating that it belonged to himself, which was given up, supposing all was right, and has since been sold by the accused, and the money appropriated to his own use.—Justice Drinker committed him to the Tombs for examination.

Arrest of a Pickpacket.—Officer Williams, of the 3d oth ward, arcested yesterday Phobe Doty, on a warrant, wherein she stands charged with keeping a disorderly house at No. 164 Church street. Justice Drinker held her to bail in the sum of $500, in default of which she was committed to prison.

Recovery of an deardien—Officer Stephens recovered yesterday, from a second hand shop kept by L. Jacobs, in Chutham street, a handsome accordion, belonging to Mr. John L. Cilley, worth $30, it having been stolen at the great fire in July, a year ago.

Burgtaru—The shop occupied by John Mitchell, in the rear, No. 26 Vamdam street, was burglariously entered last night by means of a false key, and a lo: of brass and Cerman silver flute keys, valued at near $40, in an unfinished state, also 3 small saws in a cross frame, such as are used by silversmiths, stolen therefrom. No arrest.

Another.—The premises No. 298 Bewery, occupied by Mr. Henry B. Venn, was burglariously entered on the night of the 20th, and robbed of eight ball tickets. No other property taken. No arrest.

Lobbed in an Omnibus—A lady was robbed yesterday, a gold watch, on the back of which was sugraved J. V. B. Varick, "while riding up Broadway, in one of he 11th street omnibuses. No arrest.

Revenue Marine Order.

Takasuar Deparament, Dec. 28, 1846.

Sir.—As the season is approaching when much suffering and distress experienced by vessels bound to ports in the Unite 1 States iftom long voyages, may be alleviated by the agency of the revenue vessels while cruising on the coast, in discharge of the duties enjoined by the set of Congress of December 22, 1837, I have thought it advisable to designate the revenue schooner—

To enable you to afford the required assistance to vessels and crews in all cases of distress, it will be proper that you should carry provision, fuel, and water, in such quantities as can be conveniently stawed.

Should the underwriters see fit to place clothing or other supplies on beard, you will take charge of the same, and dispose of them agreeably to their directions.

Thus prepared, you are directed to cruise between and keeping as close to the land as may be consistent with the safety of the vessel, and not going into port oftener than you may be compelled to from stress of weather or want of supplies; on all such occasions you will immediately report to the department the cause of such return to port.

While cruising you will speak all vessels approaching the coast which you may fail in with, and afford to those requiring aid or relief such assistance as may be adapted to their condition and necessities, and as it may be in your power to render; and that any supplies thus furnished may be duly accounted for, you will charge them at the cost value, handing over to the collector any meney or orders which you may have received therefor, and taking his receipt for the same.

You will cause the tracks made during your cruise to be distinctly traced upon the chart, and all soundings, stating the depth of water, quality of the ground, &c., entered upon the journal. A full list of all vessels boarded or spoken, specifying those relieved, the nature of the assistance afforded, and the position of the vessel at the time, with an abstract of the distance run by l
